

Here at The Dasset, we love...

We are confident, curious learners, asking questions to explore the world around us.

We are engaged and enjoy learning through practical activities and investigations.

We make links across the different areas of our curriculum, showing our depth of understanding.

We apply prior knowledge to help us make predictions, ask questions and create our own investigations.

We enjoy working collaboratively to develop our thinking and understanding, applying scientific vocabulary whilst we speak and listen.

We recognise the scientist in ourselves, challenging stereotypes by observing science in its many forms in the real world.

We recognise that; gathering, presenting and analysing data helps our understanding as scientists. We have opportunities to ask further questions and find out more!
